

Modern Slavery Statement

Introduction

Crawford & Company has a long history of restoring and enhancing lives, businesses and communities – it is embedded in the work we do every day. But there is another, equally important part of our history that we must live up to: Integrity.

Across our supply chain, we aim to ensure that we and our business partners operate and uphold the law and abide by ethical and moral values stated within our Global Code of Business Conduct & Ethics.

Our commitment to respect and support human rights is embedded within our organisation, at all levels. The purpose of this statement is to outline our commitment and work to ensure our supply chain is free from all forms of modern slavery – such as forced or child labour – that exist.

How we do business is just as important as any measurement of financial growth. All of us – employees, directors, and third-party business partners – are responsible for doing the right thing, everywhere and always.

Our Mission

Restoring and enhancing lives, businesses and communities.

Our Vision

To be the leading provider and most trusted source for expert assistance, serving those who insure and self-insure the risks of businesses and communities anywhere in the world.

Our Values

- R – Respect – We practice integrity and ethical behaviour, embrace each individual's unique talents, honour diverse lives and work styles, and promote a spirit of co-operation
- E – Empowerment – Employees are emboldened to advance the company mission, take ownership of their career progression, contribute ideas to meet industry challenges, and hold themselves and others accountable
- S – Sustainability – A focus on corporate social responsibility, giving back and being good stewards in our communities
- T – Training – An environment where employees are stimulated, knowledgeable, and satisfied
- O – One Crawford – A global mind set that's inclusive, mission-focused, customer focused and on the move
- R – Recognition – An eco-system of recognition and reward for our employees' hard work
- E – Entrepreneurial Spirit – A shared passion to succeed, outpace competitors and innovate

Our Business

Crawford & Company (Australia) Pty Ltd was established in Australia in 1987 and offers an extensive Australian network of 46 offices with more than 450 claims professionals providing full coverage throughout Australia. Crawford & Company (Australia) is ultimately a subsidiary of Crawford & Company ("Crawford" or "the Company"), registered in Atlanta, Georgia and listed on the New York Stock Exchange (NYSE) under symbols CRD-A and CRD-B.

Given the size of our Global organisation, ensuring we avoid any involvement in modern slavery, particularly beyond our first-tier suppliers, is a discernible challenge. Despite this challenge, we are committed to continually improving how we work with regulators, businesses, and civil society to meet our moral and ethical obligations to combat modern slavery and to ensure it does not occur in our business or supply chain.

Recruitment

Crawford has global and region-specific recruitment policies in place to help ensure that;

- All recruitment decisions are consistent with our global values,
- The process is consistently and fairly applied
- We act in accordance with the principles in these policies including our Global Code of Business Conduct and Ethics.

Our recruitment system has formal approval "gates of approval" to ensure our policies and procedures are correctly followed. This includes verifying candidates' identity and evidence to confirm their right to work status, and generating contracts that comply with these policies and procedures.

Company Policy

Our policy and governance approach to Modern Slavery is guided by our Global Code of Business Conduct & Ethics ("The Code"), which is an external facing document. The Code is supported by internal procedural and policy documentation including but not limited to;

- Global Anti-Modern Slavery
- Global Anti-Bribery & Corruption
- Global Third Party Risk Management, and
- Global Conflicts of Interest

Training

Crawford & Company (Australia) provides a Compliance Awareness Package training on Modern Slavery which includes the company position, how to identify and how to report issues such as;

- Human trafficking,
- Modern day slavery, and
- Human trafficking and slavery in the modern world

Supply Chain

Our supply chain includes, but is not limited to;

- Goods and service providers / suppliers
- Contractors involved in the provision of service for or on behalf of Crawford, and
- Contractors involved in the reinstatement of insurance related repair.

We expect our suppliers and potential suppliers to aim for high ethical standards and to operate in an ethical, legally-compliant and professional manner by adhering to our supplier expectations and Global Business Code of Business Conduct & Ethics.

We also expect our suppliers to promote similar standards in their own supply chain.

Objectives

To achieve the objectives of this policy, the Company will:

- a) Ensure vetting of supply chain partner controls to guard against human slavery and trafficking within the procurement processes

- b) Provide adequate information, instruction and training for employees in respect of the business obligations under the Modern Slavery Act 2018
- c) Monitor, audit and review the supply chain from time to time to establish its compliance with the Modern Slavery Act 2018

Responsibility

The Crawford & Company (Australia) Board of Directors (the “Board”) takes overall responsibility for ensuring that human slavery and trafficking is afforded proper consideration at the highest level and that adequate and effective arrangements, together with appropriate resources are provided to meet its objectives.
