

A Digital Solution for Job Analysis

A Must-have for Every Employer To Support Return To Work, Injury Prevention, Candidate Selection, Health & Safety

Employers know they need Job Analyses, yet few have them. They cost too much, get out of date quickly and are disruptive when completed by third parties.

The Crawford EmployerWORKS Job^x is the first shareable, comprehensive database encompassing the physical, cognitive and environmental demands specific to over 30,000 jobs taken from the NOC, DOT, and ONET.

Conducting a physical demand analysis (PDA) starts with accessing one of our Job Profiles, which is then customized to meet the exact demands of each job. You can upload videos of an employee performing the job and artificial intelligence (AI) generates a report of human skeletal motion and injury risk potential within minutes! The customized PDA can be added to the company's proprietary database, and made shareable to everyone with the right of access; in real-time. All at the fraction of a cost of a traditional jobsite analysis.
