Crawford Forensic Accounting Services (CFAS) expands to the Middle East

We are pleased to welcome Zeena Wahab to lead our CFAS operations in the Middle East.

Zeena is a chartered accountant who specialises in the quantification of economic damage relating to Business Interruption, Contingent Business Interruption, Delay in Start Up, Extra Expenses, Stock, and Property Damage.

She began her career as a Forensic Accountant at an international forensic accounting firm in 2014 before joining a loss adjusting firm where she was Senior Manager of their forensic advisory services division.

Zeena has been involved in handling various high value claims of up to USD 97.5 million across the Middle East, Africa and Central Asia.

Brian Clark, Executive Director for Middle East retains responsibility for Crawford in the Middle East, while Derek Patterson remains the Regional Director of GTS. In her role, Zeena will report directly to Patterson.

Commenting on Zeena's new role, Brian Clark, Executive Director Middle East, said, "Zeena's appointment to lead CFAS in the Middle East further enhances our local specialist and technical capabilities, making us more able to support our local and international clients. Zeena's experience and considerable knowledge make her a valuable addition to the Crawford Middle East team."

Please join us in congratulating Zeena on her new role at Crawford.
